

Comini furious with Morbidelli

TCR International race winner Stefano Comini has pledged to avenge moves by title rival Gianni Morbidelli in last weekend's round at Monza.

In an interview with the Touring Car Times website, the Swiss SEAT racer vented his fury about the last-lap move made by Honda driver Morbidelli to win the race. "He touched me and sent me off the track," said Comini. "He did it like a coward, because he could not pass me in the correct way.

"Because of budget, one of the last races I will do is probably Salzburgring [this weekend]. Morbidelli will have to be careful there. If I am around him I will do my own private justice. I'm not sure he will finish the races."
