

Vernay and Comini set pace in TCR practices

■ Nash in a SEAT Leon TCR drives ahead

 JEAN-KARL Vernay topped the timesheet in the first practice of the TCR International Series yesterday morning.

Driving a Volkswagen Golf GTI TCR, Vernay had a best lap of two minutes 13.565 seconds to claim first place on the session's final classification.

James Nash was behind him in a SEAT Leon TCR 0.254s slower, while Dusan Borkovic in an Alfa Romeo Giulietta TCR was ranked third 0.572s behind.

Later, Stefano Comini topped the second practice timesheet.

Driving an Audi RS 3 LMS TCR, Comini clocked a best lap of two minutes 13.731 seconds. He was a narrow 0.222seconds quicker than Pepe Oriola driving a SEAT Leon TCR, while Nash was third 0.228s back.

TCR returns to the track with Qualifying today at 11am.